Favorites Fare Badly At Marlboro Track

Not One Finishes First--Oakley Wins Opener from Doris Ward--Course in Good Condition, Despite Rain.

By GEORGE B. MORRIS.

Marlboro, Md., Nov. 6.--The inclement weather today did not prevent a good sized crowd being present at the Marlboro track to witness six races run.

The track was in good condition, considering the heavy downpour, and it was fair going all the way. Favorites did not fare so well to-day, not one getting home first. The event, a five and a half furlong affair out of the chute, brought Oakley home a half length in front of Doris Ward, who tried to make a runaway affair of it. Sandover would surely have won had he not attempted to run the wrong way out of the chute. As it was he was only beaten two lengths. Troxler, who rode him, put up a clumsy ride, and with better racing luck would have been returned an easy winner.

Golden Cluster, an outsider with an even dozen against him, beat Molle Kearney, the favorite, a length and a half in the second event on the program.

But Masterston beat the hot favorite Teddy Bear by a length in the third race. Masterston's chances did not seem to impress the public, and he won practically without a dollar being wagered on him. Sandover ran all over the track in the fourth race, and then came home and won by three lengths. His race to-day was an impressive one, and he can win in much better company.

Probie, another good thing, beat Lord Welles, the favorite, by six lengths in the fifth event. It was a gallop for Probie. Lord Welles was thought to have the race at his mercy, but he was in his own way all through the race.

May Bride won last, beating Smirk out by two lengths. Troxler rode another good race on Smirk, but he was not equal to the occasion, and only managed to stall off Tom Melton for the place.

Many prominent horsemen were in attendance to-day. "Curley" Brown, secretary of the Laurel track, was a visitor, and occupied the judges' stand during the running of the program. Mr. Brown leaves for Cuba to-morrow to assume charge of his new track in Havana. The bad weather did not seem to dampen the enthusiasm of the crowd, and the bookies were kept busy all afternoon.

On Saturday the management announced that another army and navy race will be run. This contest is open to nonwinners of one of these events. They will be ridden by army officers. This attraction has made a hit with the public and there is every reason to believe that a good race will result therefrom.

The horsemen at the track are enthusiastic over the way in which Starter Milton has been getting his fields away. Every start to-day was excellent, notwithstanding the fact that he had a bad bunch to handle in several of the events. Mr. Milton is very popular with the horsemen and jockeys, and working hand in hand with each other, he is making a great record for himself.

Many Ladies Present.

The rain of to-day did not seem to stop the women from taking advantage of ladies' day. The grand stand was packed with the "fair sex," and as usual, long shots prevailed, especially as they always do on ladies' day.

Excellent time is being made by the Chesapeake Beach train service. The run was made to the track to-day in less than fifteen minutes, and likewise on the return trip. This is an advantage that is proving a good drawing card for the association.

The card offered to-morrow includes some real classy horses. In fact, it is the best so far offered. The mudders will have an inning, and several of them seem to have royal chances.

Following are the summaries:

FIRST RACE--Five and a half furlongs; for three-year-olds. Oakley, 10 (White), 1 to 1, won; Doris Ward, 10 (White), 4 to 1, second; Sandover, 10 (White), 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:20. Jockeys, M. J. Moran, M. J. Moran, and M. J. Moran.

SECOND RACE--Five furlongs; for two-year-olds. Golden Cluster, 10 (White), 1 to 1, won; Molle Kearney, 10 (White), 4 to 1, second; Probie, 10 (White), 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:15. Jockeys, M. J. Moran, M. J. Moran, and M. J. Moran.

THIRD RACE--Four and a half furlongs; for two-year-olds. Masterston, 10 (White), 1 to 1, won; Teddy Bear, 10 (White), 4 to 1, second; Sandover, 10 (White), 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:10. Jockeys, M. J. Moran, M. J. Moran, and M. J. Moran.

FOURTH RACE--Five furlongs; for three-year-olds. Sandover, 10 (White), 1 to 1, won; Golden Cluster, 10 (White), 4 to 1, second; Probie, 10 (White), 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:15. Jockeys, M. J. Moran, M. J. Moran, and M. J. Moran.

FIFTH RACE--Five furlongs; for three-year-olds. Probie, 10 (White), 1 to 1, won; Lord Welles, 10 (White), 4 to 1, second; May Bride, 10 (White), 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:15. Jockeys, M. J. Moran, M. J. Moran, and M. J. Moran.

SIXTH RACE--Four and a half furlongs; for three-year-olds. May Bride, 10 (White), 1 to 1, won; Smirk, 10 (White), 4 to 1, second; Troxler, 10 (White), 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:15. Jockeys, M. J. Moran, M. J. Moran, and M. J. Moran.

MARLBORO RACES TO-DAY STEEPLECHASING

Mrs. Griffith Here; Says She Is Glad To Quit Cincinnati

Wife of Nationals' New Manager, with Her Mother, Trainer Martin, and His Family, Reach Capital--Griff Expected About December 1.

By WILLIAM PEET.

"I am certainly glad to get away from Cincinnati--have always liked Washington, and I was the happiest woman in the world when my husband told me he had signed up to manage the Nationals for the next three years." Thus spoke Mrs. Clark Griffith to the writer at the Ebbitt House yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Griffith's mother, Mrs. Robertson, Trainer Mike Martin, Mrs. Martin, and Martin's little two-year-old girl arrived in the Capital yesterday morning, prepared to make their homes in Washington. Manager Griffith is in Montana, settling up affairs in connection with his ranch, and expects to be here about December 1.

Mrs. Griffith, who is remarkably handsome, and a delightful conversationalist, stated that just as soon as her husband had closed the deal with the Washington club directors, she started in to pack up her furniture, preparatory to moving to the Capital.

"My furniture is on the way to Washington now," added Mrs. Griffith, "and I am going out to-morrow to hunt for a house, so that by the time Mr. Griffith comes everything will be in readiness. You see, I couldn't get away from Cincinnati quickly enough. My husband is just as happy as myself over the change, and I feel sure he will be able to give Washington a good baseball club."

"Wasn't it great, the way the Athletics won the championship?" said Mrs. Griffith. "Although we were in a National League city, I was rooting for the American League all the time, and I think Clark learned that way, too, although he wouldn't admit it."

According to the manager's wife, the Cincinnati players were heart-broken when they learned that Griffith was coming to Washington. Several of them cried when they said good-bye to him in Cleveland at the conclusion of the inter-city series.

Griff always did have the faculty of endearing himself to his ball players. They know that he is a tireless worker; that he knows the game, and they always give him the best they have in them. With any kind of a break in luck

Griffith is sure to deliver the goods here. It will, of course, take time, but in three years he is sure to accomplish more than either Joe Cantillon or Jim McAlleer could do.

Although no official statement has been given out, the presence of Mike Martin in this city, who has acted as trainer under Griffith during the past ten years, means that Joe Quirk will be no longer retained.

Martin, with Mrs. Martin and his little daughter, came on with Mrs. Griffith yesterday and expects to settle here for the winter. Martin is a capable man and has had fine success handling ball players. He knows his business from A to Z, and is especially good at treating lame arms and sprained ankles. Martin and Griffith are inseparable. Martin said last night that Griffith had ordered him to be ready to act as the Washington club trainer next season.

Mrs. Griffith states her husband will be in Washington just as soon as he can adjust the business affairs in connection with his ranch in Montana. She knows nothing of his baseball plans here, as he left for the West the day after it was settled he was to manage the Nationals.

In order to settle all disputes Mrs. Griffith says her husband's first name is spelled without the "e."

A dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., last night reads as follows: Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the Georgia Peach, and incidentally the best ball player the world has ever seen, will be royally banqueted and dined by the Atlanta Ad Men's Club at the Georgian Terrace Hotel on November 15, the big spread following in the footsteps of the royal treat tendered Frank Baker and Herzog, of the world's champions, the Cincinnati Reds, in Baltimore the first of this week.

As yet Cobb has not been told of the honor that is to be paid him, and until he is located and communicated with, exact date cannot be named. November 15 being named as the tentative date. It is more than probable, however, that this date will suit all, and plans are already being put under way to make this the biggest affairs ever given a ball player.

STAHL WILL LEAD BOSTON RED SOX

Jake Signs to Play First and Manage Team.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 6.--Jake Stahl will be manager of the Boston Red Sox next year; also he will play first base. This announcement was made here to-day upon the return of Charles Combs and his thirty guests, who have been spending a fortnight at the Combses' hunting camp in Northern Wisconsin.

James McAlleer, the new president of the Boston club, also was a member of the hunting party for several days. He returned last week, and when passing through Chicago on his way East denied that he had secured the services of Stahl.

It was asserted to-day, however, by members of the hunting party that all the time McAlleer was in the Northern woods he carried Stahl's signed contract in his pocket, and showed it to several whose word cannot be doubted.

Stahl is president and general manager of the Woodlawn State Bank, of Chicago. It was his business affairs, and nothing else, that led him away from baseball.

MACK'S PITCHERS MAKE STAGE HIT

Morgan, Coombs, and Bender Before Footlights.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 6.--Cy Morgan, Jack Coombs, and Big Chief Bender, pitchers of the world's champion Athletics, opened their vaudeville engagement here to-day in an act which was unanimously voted as being the best ever staged by baseball players. They are supported by Kathryn Pearl and Violet Pearl, two clever young women, who scored individual hits in the production. The baseball players surprised the throngs of spectators. Morgan's singing was the big feature of the act, while Coombs and Bender showed stage ability which was strong enough to carry the act without their added prestige as baseball players.

All three appeared perfectly at home on the stage, their singing and dancing gave a credit to even seasoned stage professionals. An immense audience greeted the world's star heroes, and it was fully five minutes after Morgan, Coombs, and Bender made their appearance that they were able to speak their lines. The men have an excellent baseball sketch, replete with bright jokes, which they delivered in perfect style.

GLOOM AT HARVARD.

Five Additions to the Hospital List.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.--Sadness holds sway in the Harvard football camp to-night, not so much because of the defeat at Princeton Saturday, but on account of the newly elected members of the injured squad. Five men have been added, Gardner, Potter, Gardner, Campbell, and Huntington.

Gardner's broken arm lets him out for the season, while Potter's wrenched knee is expected to keep him idle until the Yale contest, and it is not sure that he will be able to work against the Blue. The other men's injuries are expected to yield quickly to treatment. Both Head Coach Haughton and Capt. Fisher admit that Princeton had a little something on their team Saturday.

FOR COMPUTING PAR.

United States Golf Association Issues Series of Rules.

The United States Golf Association, which is arranging a national handicap list, has decided upon a set of new distances for computing par on holes, as follows:

Holes up to 225 yards, inclusive, par is 3.

Holes 225 yards to 425 yards, inclusive, par is 4.

Holes 425 yards to 600 yards, inclusive, par is 5.

Par means perfect play, without strokes, and under ordinary weather conditions, always allowing two strokes on each putting green. The above figures are not arbitrary, because some allowances should be made for the configuration of the ground and any other difficult or unusual conditions. So also should be considered the severity of the hazards, especially on a hole where the par is doubtful. Each hole should be measured from the middle of the tee to the center of the green, following an air line as nearly as possible.

Penn State is going in for wrestling. An interclass meet will be held in the armory on November 16. The meet will be held under the intercollegiate rules, with seven weights, a fall scoring three points and a decision two.

NATIONALS TO TRAIN AT CHATTANOOGA.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 6.--Negotiations have been closed between President Andrews, of the Chattanooga club, and Clark Griffith, as manager of the Washington Nationals, whereby the latter club will train in Chattanooga permanently. "Kid" Elberfeld, who lives in Chattanooga, highly recommended this city.

Only the amount which is to be paid for ground rent retards the final consummation of the deal.

Big Game May Be Postponed

Rain To-day Likely to Cause Central-Tech Championship Battle to Be Played Wednesday--Big Heine Will Not Play.

By C. W. SWAN.

Should it rain to-day or Georgetown Field be in poor condition, the Technical High School football coach will ask that the game scheduled with Central for this afternoon be postponed. This was learned from good authority last night.

This game will really decide the championship of the high schools, as the winner of the contest will go through the season with an unsullied sheet, while the loser will have one defeat against it. Central is picked by the majority of football rooters to win.

Big Heine, the giant tackle of the Technical High eleven, who was counted upon to play against "Murphy" King in today's battle, will not be in the line up, contrary to the general expectation.

A special examination was given Heine yesterday, but late last night it was learned from one in authority that he would not be able to get in the game to-day.

Jack Gass, who has refereed the games to date, will again be in charge of the teams. Rominger was the only player who has umpired the games, has refused to officiate, owing to his close friendship with several members of the Central team, and also to the fact that he formerly coached the O Streeters. E. J. Lamb, of Navy, will umpire the game, while Assistant Coach Garzan, of Georgetown team, will most likely be field judge.

Fritz Reuter, the dashing half back of the Central aggregation, who has been out of the game the early part of the season owing to injuries received in the second Central-M. A. C. game, will make his appearance in a blue jersey, and is counted upon by the followers of the Central eleven to make long gains around the Blacksmiths' end. Should Reuter be injured, "Murphy" King, the crack tackle, will be shifted to the back field.

Last night the Central team was given a long blackboard talk by Phil King, the famous Princeton piskin artist, who also assisted Coach Thomas at the field in the afternoon. The O Streeters are in good condition and Capt. Hamilton is confident of victory in the game that will decide the football championship of the District high schools.

Capt. Morris, of Technical, is also confident of landing the game, and with a hard field the Blacksmiths seem certain to score on Central "Country" will tear off one of his long puns, and it will be a hard matter for the Blue and White aggregation to hold him throughout the game.

Gibson, a newcomer, will be seen at right guard, while "Mooch" Peake, who formerly played right end, will hold down the right half back position. Peake is fast and hits the line hard. Young Steerly, coached the O Streeters, E. J. Lamb, and from the showing of this in the Tech-Western game, should prove to be an able substitute. Stead is quick, tackles hard, and, above all, keeps his head.

YALE REGULARS REST.

Coach Field Gives First String Men a Lay-off.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6.--Acting on advice of Trainer John Mack, Head Coach Field, of the Yale eleven, dismissed the first string men with short practice in the fundamentals. Two eleven were formed for scrimmaging, but none of the regular players was on either of the teams. Rominger was the only player who is expected to start the big game who fought through the scrimmaging. The coaches now plan to put him at right end in the three remaining games of the season.

Avery, who played Saturday, was moved to the left end to-day, and he and Pete Francis have a pretty fight on their hands for that position. Avery has been the luckiest player on the team in his good fortune to recover from a bad knee. He has made three touchdowns in this manner since he was given a trial in the Holy Cross game when he began his scoring.

Dunn, who made a touchdown Saturday by seizing the ball after Avery had blocked a kick, was moved from end to half back to-day.

Jim Seully, the injured left tackle who has been out of town for three or four days, is expected to return on Wednesday. Trainer Mack will decide later about starting him in the Brown game Saturday. To-day's practice was secret and closed mutes will prevail until the close of the season. A call for more coaches has been sent out, and word has been received that to-morrow or Wednesday the following former stars will be here: Howard Jones, Billy Bull, Heffelfinger, Jim McCree, George Adee, Ned Glass, Corbin, and Ten Lillies.

JACOBSON INJURED.

Gallaudet Star Out of Game for Three Weeks.

The painful injury to Left Half Jack Jacobson, of the Gallaudet College eleven, at the Johns Hopkins University game Saturday, in Baltimore, proved to be a cracked collar bone near the shoulder joint, and consequently the sturdy left player is out of the game probably for this season, as he is under surgeon's orders not to resume his gridiron game in less than three weeks.

Capt. Bahr, who pointed out that none will be excused from algebra practice this afternoon, and that Cassen, the star new player from the Pacific Coast, who was injured in the Norfolk Blue game two weeks ago, would report to-day. He will take Jacobson's place. Gledhill, another good player on the hospital list, will appear in his torn to-day, as will Jones, a former brilliant quarter back of several seasons ago.

LARKIN HELPS CORNELL.

Former Georgetown Star to Assist Ithaca.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 6.--Bunny Larkin, a former crack end and one time coach here, joined the Cornell football coaching staff this afternoon to assist in training the eleven for the game with Michigan.

Practice this afternoon was materially hindered by the poor condition of Alumni Field, due to a heavy downpour of rain. Nevertheless the team was put through a strenuous session at the tackling dummy, and later ran through a signal drill. The coaches are convinced that the team did not do so well Saturday as it should have, and there is reason to believe that trouble at quarter back was in part responsible.

GOSSIP OF THE BOXERS.

Reports from New York are to the effect that the only boxing entertainments that pay in that city now are a few of the Saturday night shows.

It looks as if the game had gotten well under way in Pittsburgh now, and if the promoters are careful not to crab it there ought to be some money for the glove wielders in the Smoky City this winter.
